"Spring reminds us that even the longest winters give way to new beginnings."

Walk with us!

Earlier this year, Share the Good Foundation was able to sponsor a well in the Oloi and Acaroceng villages in Northern Uganda. This well will provide reliable water access to over 1,500 people who currently walk long distances for unsafe, shared water sources.

In May, we will be participating in their Walk to the Well grand opening of our well. We would love for all of you to join our team and "walk to the well" with us that day as we live stream on our social media, where you'll be a part of the whole experience along with the locals who live there and will use the well daily!

Adoption Update!

Malachi was adopted in 2023 through Share the Good Foundation's partnership with Gift of Adoption, and today he is thriving with his family.

Described as an active and joyful little boy, Malachi loves to make people laugh, explore the outdoors, and greet everyone he meets with a cheerful "hi." He is beginning to talk more each day, often saying "be right back" and "I love you."

His bond with his big sister, Kaylee, continues to grow in a beautiful way. She enjoys teaching him new things, and he is always close behind, eager to follow her lead. Watching their relationship develop has been especially meaningful for their family.

Malachi's parents shared that he is "one of the happiest kids" and the perfect piece to complete their family.

They remain deeply grateful to Gift of Adoption, Share the Good Foundation, and all who helped make his adoption possible.

Dolly Parton's Imagination Library is now a part of communities around the world. Children from birth to age five receive the gift of a specially selected book each month.

High quality, age-appropriate books are mailed directly to their homes to give these children the opportunity to feel the magic that books can create. EVERY qualifying child receives these books, regardless of their family's income. Visit their website to enroll your child in a chapter near you.

A huge thank you to everyone who participated! Follow us on social media for a chance to support more of your favorite charities.
